A: I still use Acronis's True Image 2012 and the Acronis boot DVD. It works great for me but it's a little easier to get started with UBCD. Q: How do I set or reset the 'Max cache size' in Google App Engine Is there any way of setting or resetting the Max Cache Size for all my app's requests? For example, I have a request that spans the entire page and I don't want this to effect the other requests, however, I want to be able to set the cache size as a whole for the app. What's the best way to accomplish this? A: This will set the max cache size globally for all http requests: `appcfg.py --config_file=./app.yaml --num_new_instances=1 --settings_version=2.0` update I prefer using the commandline tool since it gives me a lot more control. Very low concentrations of heavy metals in the food of Ria Formosa, central Portugal. This paper reports the occurrence of heavy metals (Cd, Cu, Pb, and Zn) in foodstuffs of river area (Ria Formosa, Portugal) in order to establish more precise and accurate fish advisories for the fish consumption. Total metal concentrations, which included fish and fish fillets, were determined by ICP-MS after microwave digestion in a microwave oven using a mixture of HNO<sub>3</sub>, H<sub>3</sub>BO<sub>3</sub> and H<sub>2</sub>O<sub>2</sub>. The results showed that in the 15 analyzed samples, mean total metal concentrations were well below any of the established health limits. In particular, all the fish and fish fillets samples analyzed showed concentrations of metals below or within the respective Fish and seafood safety limits for heavy metals (FAO, 2012). These results can be explained as consequence of a combination

I was wondering, if you have a splinter in your leg that is causing pain, can you leave the splinter there and just keep cutting away the flesh on top of it, so that eventually it would be over the splinter but the bone would be in place and the flesh would eventually heal over the bone? If so, then you'd be in no danger of infection, correct? Thanks a lot! A: Yes, you can pull a splinter and leave it in place. You could even leave it there for quite some time (if the skin is intact at the site, the splinter would be invisible). The most common reason not to is if the splinter is moving around or causes ongoing symptoms - in those cases, there's a risk of infection. A: This is an old question, 0cc13bf012
