With the stock split and the layoffs, the cousins decided it was time to run for new jobs and moved out of their parents house and into a new apartment. They were encouraged by their mother to apply at the Carson Partners firm, the same kind of firm where their parents worked. They get hired, and are told they will be offered the job of their dreams, that is, if they dont screw it up. minimum eight month court ordered stint. The condition of the release includes Pat Jr. moving back in with his parents in their Philadelphia home. Although Pat Jr.'s institutionalization was due to him beating up the lover of his wife Nikki, he was diagnosed with bipolar disorder. Nikki has since left him and has received a restraining order against him. Although he is on medication (which he doesn't take because of the way it makes him feel) and has mandatory therapy sessions, Pat Jr. feels like he can manage on the outside solely by healthy living and looking for the silver linings in his life. His goals are to get his old job back as a substitute teacher, but more importantly reunite with Nikki. He finds there are certain instances where he doesn't cope well, however no less
