May 17, 2021 - Serial numbers and product keys are listed in the Serial/Key column for each product in your subscription contract. The educational community (students, graduate students, teachers) must have a personal member code or employee code to participate in subscription programs. Some subscription products have a member code, which is the member ID of the subscription program if you are a member of the subscription program. The member code has a registration number that identifies your subscription service contract number. 0946cee1be
